Yoyo TV in Taiwan is among the broadcasters to have picked up South Korean preschool series Kioka (78x7') from distributor Awol Animation.

In Europe, Finland's MTV Oy and Ireland's TG4 have also acquired the toon, which follows a curious and imaginative little girl whose toys come to life when she shakes her snow globe.

Knowledge Network in Canada and Irib in Iran will also air the series, which is produced by South Korea's Goldilocks Studio and distributed by Paris-based Awol.

This follows pick-ups by France's Pivi+, Rai YoYo in Italy, ABC 4 Kids in Australia, RUV in Iceland and Okto in Singapore. The animated series received funding from the Korean educational net KBS and Icelandic Broadcasting Corporation.
